

Agan Chemical Manufacturers Ltd. is the world largest generic company in the field of crop protection chemicals and specialty aroma chemicals. The company's products include herbicides, acaricides, and plant growth regulators, as well as specialty aroma chemicals. The company was founded in 1954 and is based in Ashdod, Israel. Agan Chemical Manufacturers Ltd. operates as a subsidiary of Makhteshim Agan Industries Ltd.
(<http://www.agan-industries.com>)

Agan maintains the highest standards of environmental responsibility, and invests substantially to equip all production facilities with the latest technology in control, safety and handling systems.

Agan's commitment to high quality product standards, advanced management procedures and implementation of ecological programs has earned the company Good Laboratory Practices (GLP) Approval, the coveted TQM award with ISO-9002 international certification, ISO-14001 International certification and the Israeli Government's Environment Protection Award. New European Community directives are continuously implemented to meet future European standards

In our research for solutions to the quality of water in our condensers we started working with CQM company in 2002. at first we ordered from the company two units for automatic tube cleaning systems ATCS. after we were totally sure of their efficiency and contribution to energy saving and ease of operation we ordered within two years additionally more than 20 units to all YORK Chillers.

Before we installed the systems we use to open and clean our Chillers every 3 month. Since we installed the ATCS we do not have any more problem with sludge and other dirt and scaling in the chillers. the process of cleaning is fully automate and optimal, and we have returned the investment in the CQM systems with in a very short period. for us it was a profitable and worth while purchase decision.

All systems installed are working without any problem and we are satisfied with the service we get. as Chief Engineer for Maintenance of our factory i truly recommend this systems to all my colleges on the ball cleaning systems made by CQM

Yossi Michaeli

Chief of Maintenance

